About Me

From schooldays to working, I have been inseparable from design. I love to solve problems in the way of design, making the world better. My personal expectation is to constantly create products that make customers satisfied and users fond of as well.

My full-time working experience is about three years, and the job description mainly includes web front-end design, UI design, and graphic design. The types of my works are enterprises' official websites, website templates, backend admin pages, event sites, app interface, and so on.

With my attentive characteristic, I am careful, patient, serious and responsible when doing anything. Besides, I'm also willing to share knowledge and learn new things. And I like to discuss and cooperate with people.
